KING AND QUEEN CAUGHT IN A CYCLONE OF ASHES.

Italy's Royal Rulers Dash Into Danger Zone to Aid Sufferers-Warships Hasten to Rescue at Various Ports, and Victims Throng Naples.

NAPLES, April 9.-The stream of lava which has been threatening Torre Annunziata, a town of 28,084 inhabitants, twelve miles from Naples on the road to Castellammare, has remained stationary since last evening, so that the danger that the place would be overwhelmed appears

The action of the volcano has perceptibly diminished.

The shower of ashes ceased to fall over Naples for a time this morning, but began again later in the day.

There are 150,000 refugees gathered in this city.

But a short distance further on the ashes were four feet deep, making impossible for the royal party to continue their route in the mto cars, consequently the King and his suite descended and continued their way on

Later in the afternoon the King and his party returned to Naples and visited the temporary lodging places prepared for the fugitives.

NAPLES, April 9-Afternoon.-The quantity of ashes and cinders thrown up by Mount Vesuvius within the last twenty-four hours is unprecedented. An analysis shows this discharge to be chiefly composed of iron, sulphur and magnesia. When dry the whole region seemed to be under a gray sheet, but now, after a fall of rain, it appears to have been transformed into an immense lake of chocolate.

PANIC AT MANY PLACES.

The evacuation of the threatened villages and towns continues, but means to transport the inhabitants are lacking, although thousands of soldiers with artillery carts have been sent to the places where the sufferers are most in need of assistance.

At many places the people are suffering from panic and a state of confusion exists, which has been added to by superstition. Some of the parish priests refused to open their churches to people who tried to obtain Singularly enough, shortly after the arrival of the sovereigns and while the King and Queen were trying to console the people, repeating frequently, "Courage; be strong," the wind suddenly changed and the atmosphere, which up to that moment had been impregnated with sulphurous gas and suffocating fumes, cleared away and the sun burst forth. The stream of lave stopped in its march after having destroyed a section of the northeast part of the suburb and the adjacent cemetery. The air rang with benedictions for the King from his devoted subjects.

Hope at once returned and the King and Queen were preparing to move on, but the people insisted that they remain, begging that they be Echodale, equal favor te with Delphie, won the opening race very easily by three lengths from Fiat, a 10 to 1 lages, but the railway was interrupted and they were forced to return to not abandoned.
